BY LEONARD B. CHAPMAN.

THE NAME OF YORK.

(Continued from last week.) Gov. Shirley's reply to Enoch Freeman's request for books to explore the Androscoggin river, dated at Boston, August 26, 1799, reads as follows:

"Sir: Agreeable to your Motion for a Boat going up Androscoggin River in White Boats, the Gent Court have ordered that White boats should be provided for that Service:

"And I do hereby desire and direct you as soon as you shall have the Boats to take effectual Care, that the ad Boat (to consist of the most suitable Persons) be sent up the River of Androscoggin to pursue the Affairs according to your own Scheme—

"I am Sir, Your assured Friend and Servant

"W. Shirley

"To Major Enoch Freeman."

The House of Representatives voted on Sept. 9, 1799 that the day of men going out upon these expeditions should be "Six Dollars per week, they providing wholly for themselves, one week's pay in advance, and As a further Encouragement, they shall be entitled to the full premium for Prisoners and Sculps.

"Spent up for concurrence,

"T. Hubbard Sprk."

Here is a copy of a letter, or the first part, written by Enoch Freeman to Lt. Gov. Phelps and dated at—

"Falmouth, Nov. 1st, 1799.

"Sir Capt. Berry is returned from his Boat up Androscoggin River, he took the Course and Directions of ye River for about Eighty five Miles up, and there the River is as also as below, large and about twenty Rods Wide, which makes him believe he did not go near the Head of it, but the Water being very low in the River this Season of the Year, there was so many Bifolds, that retarded his course, and he was obliged to return; he went about fifteen or twenty Miles about a Place call'd Hockomecock, an old, large Indian Settlement, some hundred of Acres of Clear'd Land and great Quantities of rich Intervals, from thence all the way down to Brunswick is a fine Country for Land, many beautiful level Islands of good Land in the River, but I can't describe it so well as by a Plan of the River and which I am about getting Done and shall send it to Your Honor."

"As the season of the year is advancing you Honor will hasten here as soon as possible orders respecting the collecting the 150 men to scout this fall. I would propose their being divided into five companies of thirty men each, and I propose to send one up the western branch of the Kennebec; one over to Chandler river; one to the head of Androscoggin; one to the head of the Saco and one to Berwick to find the head waters of the Connecticut River, if your Honor like the scheme.

"Also the Commissary General send me some snow shovels for the men, if he has 'em by him, if not, he get them made immediately. And if I am very sick it would be worth while for you to send me to be at the charge of a good surveyor to go with each party and hope your Honor will give orders accordingly.

"I am—(Sic)

"Enoch Freeman.

"To Hon. Speaker Phelps Esq, Agent, Congress etc."

In transcribing the last part of the communication I have left out the many capital letters used by the writer and some parts in full.

Prior to the expedition by Capt. George Berry but little if anything was known of the country situated at Brunswick. Upon the Morris map of the "Northern English Colonies," delineated at Boston August 18, 1719, is the name William Shirley Esq., Captain General of his Majesty's Province, the Androscoggin river is shown does not appear but that of the Frenchman and George Pond do, though without names. LADY TRUSTEES OF GOULD'S ACADEMY

Gave Reception in Odeon Hall Thursday Evening.

The suggestion of a reception at the opening of the school year to the students of the Academy originated with one who delights in extending hospitality and among whose many plans those for the pleasure and education of young people have always a fortunate share. Considering that it should properly be in some sense under the auspices of the trustees, it seemed fitting that the feminine members of the board should act as hostesses, social duties being beyond dispute within the prerogative of the weaker sex. Through the gracious co-operation of the young members of Dr. Gehring's household, whose courtesy is most fully appreciated, the evening was made delightful by the reputation of a programme which they had given most charmingly at home a few evenings before.

Odeon Hall was well filled on Thursday evening with students, alumni, parents and friends of the school. Mrs. Gehring added to her words of welcome a few explanatory of the evening's program. To the Freshman class, not supposed to be as yet quite up in French history, she told the story of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, prefatory to the tableaux. To the class in American History she gave the date of the old English song, "Sally in Our Alley," 1620, a year when we in this country were not composing music. To the French class was promised the introduction by Miss Weed of a Frenchman very much in love. She said that the programme would present English, Scotch and Irish ballads illustrated by action.

The first number was a charming version of Sally in Our Alley, with Miss Pratt, quaint and captivating, in the title role, Mr. Bingham long to be remembered in surprising blouse and overalls and then in brave holiday attire of scanty swallow tail and waistcoat, flaming the and diminutive hat. Mr. Roper was stern and strenuous in his frequent incursions, as the irate master who "banged him most severely."

In two songs, Violets, and Philosophy, Mrs. Wright, whose sweet, clear voice always is gladly heard, gave much pleasure.

Then a glimpse of French history and English art by Miss Parkes and Mr. Roper in three very beautiful tableaux adapted from Millais' Huguenot Lovers. Mendelssohn's Spring Song played by Mr. Bingham and Miss Herick was the sympathetic musical undercurrent of the impressive pictures. They were also prefaced by the dramatic rendering by Mrs. Gehring of a poem in interpretation.

The artistic rendering of Mr. Bingham's violin solo, "The Flower Song," by Lange, accompanied by Mrs. Edwards, met with delighted appreciation, and in response to a most enthusiastic recall he gave Trueman, Schumann, and Simple Aven, Thome.

In the illustration of an old Scotch ballad, "Willie goes to Melville Castle," Mr. Upson, splendid in gay Scotch tartan, heartily resisted the charms of a quartette of beautiful maidens, Lady Grace, Miss Upson, Lady Kate, Miss Weed, Lady Ann, Miss Pratt, Lady Jean, Miss Herick. Mr. Upson may always be sure of an enthusiastic reception from any Bethel audience, old or young, and surely such was given to two numbers which he sang in Highland costume, "Barney," followed by a rollicking sea song.

Miss Weed was particularly happy in the characterization of an exasperated Frenchman in her selection, "Nai, Ninette, Nisane."

In a vivacious version of Kitty of Whirlwind, Miss Parkes was altogether delightful as the coquettish Kitty with an accompaniment of fragile pictures or while Mr. Upson was now hauled as the complacent Irish swain.

To conclude again for the last number, "Coming Thru' the Rye," which presented a fascinating, half-comic picture of gay young Agnes dancing in rhythmic motion to the strains of the blithe song, "Such a taking thing it was" everybody cheered for more, even after it had been twice repeated at the insistent demand. There were Miss Pratt, Miss Upson and Mr. Parkes, Miss Wheeler and Mr. Roper, Mrs. Richardson and Mr. Bingham.

WATERFORD FAIR.

The "World's Fair" held at North Waterford, October 4th and 5th, was all that could be desired in the way of a genuine old-fashioned cross roads fair. The weather was perfect, almost as warm as mid-summer and the crowd was there.

Friday was given over to the horse show and Saturday the cattle were the center of attraction. Dancing was enjoyed through the day as well as evening and quite a good many fairs helped to make things lively. Flint's Jungle Show was on hand and his tent of wild animals was of much interest to the children. Mr. Flint also had a merry-go-round there which is always hailed with delight by the young. The Twitchell Bros. with their fruit and confectionery did a good business as did Percy Nevins, who sold soft drinks. The conch dodger, ten pins and ring toss games together with the souvenir sellers kept things lively. Refreshments of all kinds were on sale.

Both the horses and cattle were well worth seeing and were proof, as all the fairs in this county have been, of up-to-date and industrious farmers which we have in our midst.

In the schoolhouse a varied display of articles brought forth favorable comment. The officers of this society are President, E. H. Nason; Vice President, Geo. Stevens; Secretary, M. M. Homing; Treasurer, B. J. Flint.

Miss Weed and Mr. Upson, Miss Herick and Mr. Wright in the beguiling group which it seemed one never would tire of seeing. The evening's pleasure came when the march was formed, to be followed by the pretty figures of the familiar and colorful "Haymakers." Then an hour's dancing.

The Herick orchestra whose willing service was warmly appreciated were a most welcome addition to the programme.

The presence of the large number who responded to the very general invitation to friends of the school was very gratifying, and it is hoped that they found somewhere nearly as much pleasure in coming as those who had the affair in charge felt in having them come.

AN ARREST AT RUMFORD SUNDAY.

Miss Annie McDonald, a domestic employed in the family of Harry Marx was arrested by the officers Sunday night for stealing a very valuable ring of Mrs. Marx.

It seems that the family were spending the day at Berlin, N. H., and left the girl at home. She, after they left, decided to pick up what valuables she could find around the house and get them into her trunk and then fly. So she packed her trunk taking several articles of clothing and a very valuable ring which Mrs. Marx purchased in Germany some years ago set with several diamonds. After packing her trunk and getting out of the house she started to go at once to the train and get out of town Sunday afternoon, but through a mistake, just missed the train. On the evening before a man called at Marx' house and claimed to be the brother of Miss McDonald. This fellow met her and was going off with her but upon their missing the train the pair decided to remain all night in town. So they went and hired a room at one of the blocks on Congress street, and stated that they were man and wife. They then proceeded to drink a quantity of whiskey and were pretty well intoxicated when later in the evening the police located them, after having been informed by Mr. Marx of the theft committed at his home.

The officers searched the trunk of the woman and found all of the missing articles.

Upon being brought into court the McDonald woman pleaded guilty and was bound over to the higher court under one thousand dollar bonds; these she was not able to furnish and was taken across by Deputy Sheriff Small. The man was discharged and advised to go back to Lowell where he came from.

FOR PARCELS POST.

New Stamps Will be Ready for Distribution Jan. 1.

When the new parcels post law recently enacted by Congress goes into effect Jan. 1, stamps designed exclusively for use in the new branch of service will be used. Postmaster General Hitchcock has arranged for the engraving and manufacture of a series of 12 stamps to be used in forwarding packages. The stamps will be unique in size and design. Under the new law ordinary stamps cannot be used.

The special parcel post stamps will be larger than the ordinary mail stamps. The colors and designs will be so distinctive that there will be no possibility of confusion with the stamps now in use.

Three series of designs are to be used. The first will illustrate modern methods of transporting mail, one stamp showing the mail car on a railroad train, another an express mail steamship, a third an automobile and a fourth the dispatch of mail by telephone.

The second series will show at work in their several positions, the four great classes of postal employees—postmen, clerks, railway mail clerks, letter carriers and rural delivery carriers.

The third series will show four industrial scenes representing the principal sources of products that will probably be transported extensively by parcels post. The new parcels post stamps will be ready for distribution by Dec. 1, so that the 60,000 postmen may be supplied with them before the new law goes into operation.

25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

The Bethel friends of Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Gleason of Henniker, N. H., will be pleased to learn of the pleasant surprise given them Wednesday evening, Sept. 25.

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gleason was Sept. 22nd, but as the day was Sunday no observance was planned for it although thoughtful friends had remembered them with gifts appropriate for the day.

On returning from prayer meeting Wednesday evening their surprise was great to find the house lighted and the rooms filled to overflowing with friends who with the help of their daughter, Miss Mahel, had planned to celebrate their Silver anniversary.

A most delightful evening was enjoyed by over one hundred people who had gathered to extend congratulations and wish joy to this popular pastor and his helpful wife.

Refreshments of tea cream and cake were served and before departing a goodly purse of silver was presented as a token of appreciation and good will. The members of their former parish in Bethel extend most hearty congratulations upon reaching this silver milestone on life's way and sincerely wish that the journey towards the golden one may be full of sunshine and happiness.

GAME LAWS OF MAINE.

The game laws of Maine, so far as they affect moose and deer, may be summarized as follows:

Deer shooting season, Oct. 1 to Dec. 15, inclusive, legal allowance, two deer to a hunter. Deer or portions of a deer may be shipped out of the State by non-residents when officially tagged and accompanied by owner while within the State, shipping tags to be taken from the hunter's license. A resident may ship one deer or parts thereof, out of the State, by payment of a fee of $2 for deer and $5 for moose tag. Penalty for illegal killing of deer, $40 fine and costs or four months' imprisonment for each deer illegally killed.

Non-residents hunting in Maine are required to pay a license fee of $15 annually. License includes one coupon for transportation of one moose and two coupons for transportation of two deer out of the State. The license fee for bird hunting is $5 and a hunter who has paid that fee can take out a license and deer license by payment of $10 additional.

CORN SHOP.

The corn shop closed Thursday afternoon. Owing to the lateness of the season the pack was somewhat short as there was greater shrinkage than would have been if the corn had been perfectly filled.

The farmers co-operated with the management to get all possible from the corn under the unavoidable conditions.

They whole pack will go as No. 1, as the corn packed had not been hit by the frost.

The help has all been paid and expressed satisfaction. Labeling will begin in a few days. Mr. Whitman goes to Norway the last of the week to assist in causing a small lot of corn which will come in, unless hit by the frost. After the labeling is finished here Mr. Whitman will remain in Norway to manage the apple canning. The farmers will be paid the last of October.

Although Bethel with nearly all of the towns in the State suffered from the dryness of the season the farmers are not discouraged but express their purpose to plant corn another year, and express satisfaction with Mr. Whitman's management under the existing circumstances. According to reports from other factories the Bethel farmers may congratulate themselves that the results have been so successful. Mr. Whitman has worked for the advantage of the farmers and appreciates their hearty co-operation.

Mr. Whitman at the close of the season will leave with the best wishes of a host of friends who will be glad to welcome him next year.

USEFUL HINTS.

In thickening cream soups allow a tablespoonful each of butter and flour to every quart of soup.

A small bag of unslaked lime hung inside underneath the cover of the piano will catch all dampness and prevent rust of the wires.

If the threads which are to be drawn for hemstitching are first scrubbed with soap, using a small brush, they can be pulled out easily without breaking.

When you are basting roast beef a tablespoonful of brown sugar or of ordinary granulated sugar added to the gravy will improve the color and the flavor.

Sunshine is destructive to mirrors.
The glass assumes a milky appearance and can not be restored to its original appearance. Place the mirrors in position, so that the direct rays of the sun
do not fall upon them.

A soufflé should never be put into a very hot oven. It crumbles over on top before it has time to bake properly inside and is likely to fall as soon as it comes from the oven. Bake in a moderate temperature and not too fast.

LACE ROUNDED.

When lace is added to a round dolly,
this may be a help, says the Ladies' Home Journal. Measure the exact quantity and join the edges. Double the lace and roll it end to end, then wrap the straight or inside edge tightly with a cord of half the width of the lace. Dip the cord end in water to shrink it. Lay it aside until dry, then remove the cord and unroll. The lace will be circular and may easily be sewed to the dolly.

SLEEP.

It is through sleep that the brain and body receives its perfect rest. But how many people sleep in bedrooms which give them the benefit of absolute quiet, the darkness which is necessary for perfect slumber and freshness without which sleep loses half of its benefit. Eight hours of sleep are recommended by the laws of health.
The sleeping-room should be absolutely plain, devoid of all gewgaws which attract and accumulate dust.
The really up-to-date sleeping-room is half out of doors, and several that I have seen lately are tiled so that they can be washed from the ceiling to the floor, and kept spotlessly clean. Many a woman sleeps on a cot or couch, and sacrifices her health to the appearance of her room. The studio habit is a curable one for health, and no one should sleep in the room in which they work or receive their friends by day.

If you want to get perfect rest at night never go to bed with a hairpin in your hair; braid the hair loosely in two braids. Don't have too many pillows; follow prevent ventilation, badly circulate, and too many of them render the sleep shallow. Choose a hard bed and do with just as small a pillow as possible. Sleeping on the stomach retards the circulation, while sleeping on the right side stretches the muscles about the heart, and increases the trouble one may have with that organ. Of course, people with strong frames have no difficulty sleeping on the right side, with head slightly bent so that the jaw, even if it hangs will not open the mouth wider.

If she can, I should advise every woman to sleep out of doors in a sleeping porch for some part of the year.
In this way she will acquire the habit of fresh air, and will not be able to escape the bad ventilation of the average bedroom. Her health will improve, her long, develop and the open air will invigorate and refresh her, as nothing else can do. Merrett's Magazine.

A NEW ONE ON HIM.

An old farmer was driving into town
the other day when an automobile going thirty miles an hour overtook him on the road. He quickly pulled his team to one side. As the machine passed he saw a motor cycle driving by.

"Well, that's good," he said to himself, "if I ever knew before that these infernal automobiles had sidecars too."

"I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me," writes Mrs. L. D. Dupuy, of Oak Grove, Mich. "I have suffered with pains in my back and under my shoulders blade for
a number of years,
also with a poor appetite and constipation.
I tried all of the remedies that I heard of,
and a number of doctors, but got no relief.
Finally a friend told me to try Chamber-

Liver Tablets. I got a bottle of them and they soon helped my

WORKS WONDERS

The diseases of childhood are often hard to interpret. A nervous condition, restlessness at night, an abnormally large appetite or sometimes none, may indicate worms. In such cases a teaspoonful of "L. F." Atwood's Medicine at night and a small dose before a light breakfast the following morning is harmless, and will settle all doubt about worms being the cause. Many mothers already know this. One of them writes:—"My little boy, aged 6, has never been without 'L. F.' Atwood's Medicine since he was two, and I have found it invaluable for Worms, Constipation, etc."

Mrs. Adelbert E. Jellison, Franklin, Me. If you have never used "L. F." Atwood's Medicine, write for a free sample. 35 cents for a large bottle at all stores.

How to Be More Beautiful.

By Dr. True

The love of good looks is a very natural feeling. We are all just human enough to wish to look well and make a good appearance.

I have met many people, some of them ladies, who were mortified because their faces, otherwise attractive and often even beautiful, were marred by a dry and yellow skin, bumpy and wrinkled, or by unsightly pimples and blotches.

It has been my good fortune to point these people to a safe and very simple remedy for their affliction; and because there are many others who suffer in the same way, I am giving my remedy here. Everyone should understand, however, that these troublesome things have a very simple cause and come only because nature is failing to eliminate poisons from the system in a natural way. If these people will take Dr. True's Skin Cream, which will give them back the soft, clear, and healthy skin, they will find that nature is doing its work and that the matter that was clogging the pores of the skin and marred physical beauty, is being eliminated.

I counsel all who wish to possess good looks to follow this advice and I urge them further to use, every night, Parker's 2302 Cold Cream. Pores in the skin and nature thus will give you back the soft, clear, and healthy skin that is yours by right.

Why Goethe Can't Be Translated. The reason why Goethe cannot be translated is that no one of Goethe stands on the English side of the line to link the equivalent words with equivalent meaning. The process of rendering Goethe or Schlegel into another tongue is what a German, not over familiar with our process, uses to describe the process. He says such a German book has been "put into English."—T. Starr King's Essay on Books and Reading.

The Point of View.

The power of fortune is conferred only by the miserable, too happy impute all their success to prudence or merit.—Dean Swift.

And Misapprehended at First.

It is not as much a character trait as it is a habit of mind. Let me quote one example. In the land we choose the short, but I will not chance it and say uglier word "motor" whereas in America the word "motor" is never used, but the longer and more difficult one "automobile" is.—Rev. Dr. John Clifford of London.

Our Religion.

We have just enough religion to make us hate, but not enough to make us love one another.—Dean Swift.

SELECTION OF DISHES SOME SIMPLE DISHES

HINTS THAT OFFER SOMETHING NEW TO THINK ABOUT.

Housewife Who "Can't Think What to Have Next" Will Find Some Useful and Timely Suggestions Here.

"Missus, Ah want something to think on and then Ah'll go to mah waibling and git done right soon," our old laundress used to say to mother who would satisfy her wandering mind with some bit of news or an anecdote and send her back to her tubs happy.

These selected suggestions are compiled to give the housewife who "can't think what to have next" something new to think on.

An entree is a made dish to be served with the second course. Very small tender beef steaks and baked and dressed with a fine herb sauce is an attractive entree that any one can accomplish.

Calf's brains, au gratin, or breaded or scrambled on toasted squares of bread or blanquette of lamb with mushrooms or pigeon pies in individual serving dishes are all timely this month. A savory garnish for any entree is a plate of blanquette but instead of oysters in the bacon use chicken or lamb liver.

The slices of bacon should be just long enough to cover the liver and may be secured in place with toothpicks, withdraw when the bacon is crisp and done. In a pan in a hot oven is the best place to cook them, or in a cooking bag.

Ross d'oieuvre are appetizers, served with the main course or before or between courses, usually on croutons fried brown and cut neatly.

A Bengal sandwich is a new hors d'oeuvre served in a new way. For six sandwiches use six hard-boiled eggs, yolks, two tablespoons of butter and a level tablespoon of curry powder. A few drops of anchovy essence may be added but generally American palates do not approve of this Russian flavor. Mix the above with a little herb vinegar and a tablespoon of cracker crumbs to a smooth moist paste. Cut Boston brown bread in thin slices and spread and garnish with water cream.

Bouches of sardines taste like deviled crabs when made my way and taste, too, like more, which is what a hors d'oeuvre is meant to do.

Mix canned sardines into a paste with snappy cheese, salt, pepper and chili vinegar, chop a few scalloped oysters fine and mix and form into small balls the word bouches means a mouthful, so shape the balls with this in mind.

Roll the balls in crumbs and fry brown in butter.

Haddock canapés are for Fridays. Flan haddock or other fish may be used. Flake it and mince in an egg and a little pepper and fry until the egg is just set and serve on a square toasted crouton.

Indian croutons: Fry rounds of bread in hot butter, then spread, first with deviled ham, then with chutney and then sprinkle with sharp cheese and brown in the oven.

Among these salad suggestions you may find one that is new to you and that you will enjoy trying. Asparagus salad: with salmon: Mix ice cold mayonnaise and heap on chilled lettuce leaves and garnish with asparagus points cut about two inches long. Cauliflower may be used also with this.

Appropriate luncheon relishes are small patties of bouquette, canapés, crostons, fancy toast, ramanins, dill pickles, pickled onions, and walnuts, chutney, chow-chow and all the different catsup.—Henrietta D. Grauel, Domestic Science Lecturer.

Yorkshire Tart.

Line the bottom of a deep baking dish with good pastry and spread on it a layer of preserved peaches or peach jam, mixed with a little preserved ginger cut into small pieces. Weigh two eggs, take their weight in sugar, in butter and in flour, cream the butter and sugar, add to them the eggs, whipped light and then put in the flour mixed with a half teaspoonful of baking powder. Pour this mixture over the preserves in the dish, and bake to a good brown. A few minutes before taking the dish from the oven rub the top of the paste with butter or with raw egg.

Endive and Potato Salad.

Cut some boiled potatoes in dice while warm and dress them with a little oil and flavored vinegar, a few drops of anchovy essence and a dust of cayenne, with a very little salt. Put them in a cold place for a few hours. Place a head of endive in a plate or bowl—let it be compact in shape—then put a row of chopped beet root between it and the potatoes. Sprinkle over the latter a small onion finely chopped and some parsley and thyme.

Fancy Fried Calf's Brains.

If the calf's brains are not used in making a sauce they may be served in this way: Clean and boil gently in vinegar and water, drain, cut into oval and steep them in a basin with a little oil, vinegar, pepper and salt then fry in butter as you would any other and serve with piquante or provencal sauce.

Good for Indigestion.

Pineapple is good for indigestion the juice containing a digestive fluid similar to pepsin.

RECIPES THAT WILL TEMPT THE JADED APPETITE.

Mint Omelet, Strawberry Tarts and Fried Tomatoes in Spanish Style. Furnish an Appetizing Variety for Warm Days.

Mint Omelet.—Crack four fresh eggs in a bowl, add two tablespoonfuls of fresh cream, salt and pepper to taste, and two teaspoonfuls of chopped mint leaves. Pour the eggs into a hot buttered pan, stirring when first put in; let them cook then like any omelet, and fold and serve on a hot dish, covering the top with melted butter.

Strawberry Tarts.—Get six little pastry shells from the baker, or make them from a fine pastry dough. Wash a basket of fresh, ripe strawberries, pick off stems and drain them on a napkin; then put them in a bowl, sprinkling them with fine sugar and half a glass of rum. Turn the fruit in this dressing, then place as many strawberries in each crust as it will hold. Divide the juice in the bowl evenly over the tarts and place them in a hot oven to cook ten minutes. Remove, let them get cold, and put a blob of whipped cream at top of each tart.

Fried Tomatoes, Spanish Style.—Wash and wipe six even-sized, sound, ripe tomatoes; cut them in halves crosswise, and season each half with salt, pepper and a little sugar. Then place two sprigs of parsley, two leaves of a clove of garlic, and a quarter of a clove of onion in each half, and then lightly roll them in flour. Fry the tomatoes in butter until a light brown each side, and then place each half on a round piece of toast; dot the tops with a bit of butter and then set the dish in a brisk oven for ten minutes. Put the toast pieces side by side on a hot platter, decorate with sprigs of parsley and serve hot.

NICE PUNCH BOWL DRINK

Orange Cup Is Just the Thing for the Children's Lawn Party.

This is one of the nice punch bowl drinks that is all right for the children's lawn party. Peel half a dozen oranges, remove every particle of the white pith, divide into sections, and take out seeds and membrane. Put six heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar in a saucepan with the juice of two other oranges and some water. Bring to a boil, and simmer until the sugar is dissolved, but not boiled. Arrange the pieces of orange in punch bowl. Combine the syrup and cold water to make a pleasant sherbet, flavor with orange flower water, and pour over the oranges in the bowl, and at the last put in several pieces of ice to make the "chink" and keep the contents of the bowl cold.

Cake Worth Trying.

Place your sifter in your mixing bowl, in your sifter put 1 cup of sugar, 1½ cups of sifted flour, 1 level teaspoon of soda and 2 level teaspoons of cream of tartar. Sift these all together into your bowl. Put into a teacup the whites of 2 eggs, add enough melted butter to half fill the cup and on that put enough milk (sweet) to fill the cup. Put in your mixing bowl with the other ingredients. So easily and quickly made, and when baked will be light as a feather. Another loaf can be made from the yolks in the same way.

Berry Pudding.

Beat to a cream one cup of butter with two cups of sugar, add four well-beaten eggs, one cup of sour cream in which one teaspoon of soda is dissolved, and four cups of flour. Stir all together and add one quart of berries, dredged lightly with flour. Wrap a pudding cloth out of boiling water, dredge it with flour, and pour the batter in, trying it loosely enough to allow the pudding to swell. Plunge this into boiling water and boil for three hours. This pudding can be steamed, but an hour longer should be allowed for the steaming. Serve with wine or vinegar sauce.

Laundry Helps.

An easy way to wash and still have clothes of a dazzling whiteness is to put them to soak over night in lukewarm water, in which has been added one cup of soap jelly and one cup of melted paraffin. In the morning look over the clothes and rub any soiled spots lightly with the hands. Have ready a boiler of hot water, to which has been added a cup of melted paraffin and one of soap jelly. Put the clothes in and boil twenty minutes; then rinse through two or three waters and hang on the line.

Strawberry Pie.

Three eggs beaten separately, 1½ cups sugar, one-half cup cold water, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract, pinch of salt. Use washed strawberries between layers and whipped cream on top, garnished with whole berries.

For the Skin.

For a greasy, oily skin put some saturated, a little alcohol or toilet vinegar into the wash water.

Pe-ru-na and Ka-tar-no

S. B. Hartman, M.D.

I have received a letter from a young lady, who asks me: "Is the old Pe-ru-na (Ka-tar-no) better than the revised Pe-ru-na?" Either medicine has its place. One is adapted for one condition, another for another. Ka-tar-no is a better remedy for some conditions than the revised Pe-ru-na.

On the other hand, the revised Pe-ru-na is a better remedy for some conditions than Ka-tar-no. They are both intended as cathartic remedies. They have both done a great work in relieving catarrh, chronic and acute. Many hundreds of cases of chronic catarrh have recovered while taking Ka-tar-no and the same is true of the revised Pe-ru-na during the last six years since its revision.

There is a difference, however, in the two remedies. Whenever catarrh is associated with constipation then the revised Pe-ru-na is the best. In fact, this is exactly why the revision was made, to meet such cases. But where no laxative is needed, where the bowels are regular or inclined to be loose, then the old Pe-ru-na (Ka-tar-no) is the better remedy.

The revised Pe-ru-na is for sale at all drug stores. Those wishing to obtain Ka-tar-no, address The Ka-tar-no Co., Columbus, Ohio.

SOME OF THE LARGEST THINGS.

"The tallest monument is the Washington obelisk, 555 feet high; but the largest monolith is in Karnak, Egypt, being 105 feet high. The highest chimney, measuring 174 feet is in Glasgow. The largest aqueduct in use is the Croton, of New York, which is thirty-eight miles long, but the longest overbuilt is in Peru, 300 miles in length.

"The deepest coal mine is near Limerick, Belgium, 3,500 feet deep; the biggest dock is at Cardiff, Wales; and the strongest electric light is at the Sydney Lighthouse, Australia; while the largest lighthouse is at Cape Henry, Virginia, being 165 feet high and 8 feet thick. The greatest bank is the Bank of England, in London; the oldest college is University College, Oxford, founded in 1529; the largest library, the National, in Paris, containing nearly three million volumes. The largest theatre is the Paris Opera House, covering three acres; the largest bronze statue, that of Peter the Great, in St. Petersburg, weighing 1,100 tons. The biggest stone statue is in Japan, 41 feet high; the largest college is in Cairo, with over 10,000 students and 310 teachers. Damascus has the honor of being the oldest city.

"The most costly book in the world is a Hebrew Bible, owned by the German Government, which a few years ago refused the Pope's offer of $125,000 for it. The most costly medicine which sold for $150,000 a pound; but radium is now the priceless gem of the medical world, selling for more than that price an ounce. A man would have to be exceedingly ill before sending for such a prescription, even though he were a millionaire.

"Though orchids frequently bring prices that make the poor man stagger,

AN IGNORANT BUNCH.

An unsophisticated resident of a small town up the state had never been in court before, and was not familiar with the interrogative manner in which a lawyer juggles a witness. When he returned home in the evening a friend asked him how he had made out.

"Oh, I made out all right," he replied, "but I never saw such a bunch of lawyers in my life."

"What was the matter with them?" queried the friend.

"A whole lot was the matter with them," answered the witness. "Judging from the million questions they asked me, there ain't a durned one of them knows anything about the case."

FOR A SALT FISH DINNER

Simple Directions for Cooking Cod So It Will Be Tasty and Digestible.

The old way of serving a codfish dinner was to cook a whole fish. The fish must be cooked, and not some of the other white fish so often palmed off as cod, but which are not as good. Soak a part of a codfish in cold water overnight, then put in a fish kettle, or in a pan, set over a kettle of boiling water, and cook very slowly for several hours. If it cooks fast at a high temperature it will be hard and tasteless, but if cooked at a low temperature it will become gelatinous and digestible. Place the fish on a hot platter and place over it some pork scraps made by frying slices of pork cut into thin slices. Garnish the edge with slices of red boiled beet and sprigs of boiled carrot. Serve with an egg sauce. Cook two eggs in boiling water 15 minutes. Make a sauce from three level tablespoons of butter and two level tablespoons of flour rubbed together and added to one cup of scalding hot milk. Cook five minutes, add the egg chopped coarsely and it is ready to serve.

BOILED HAM AND SPINACH

Wholesome Dish That Is Convenient for the Busy Days of Summer.

This may be prepared with fresh ham or smoked, and it is a simple enough matter to get the spinach ready the day before, keeping it fresh in a large tin pan placed on the collar floor.

Take the knuckle end of the ham and clean it thoroughly—that is, the smoked ham—and then put it on in enough boiling water to cover it. Add when it is tender the dish is ready. To many persons spinach is more delicious if left uncooked. It is a little more substantial served in this manner and the method is convenient for busy days. Only black or cayenne pepper is needed for this dish unless the ham is fresh or not sufficiently salt to season the greens.

AN IGNORANT BUNCH.

An unsophisticated resident of a small town up the state had never been in court before, and was not familiar with the interrogative manner in which a lawyer juggles a witness. When he returned home in the evening a friend asked him how he had made out.

"Oh, I made out all right," he replied, "but I never saw such a bunch of lawyers in my life."

"What was the matter with them?" queried the friend.

TREATING HORSE FOR WORMS

Three Excellent Remedies Given That Have Been Tried and Found Satisfactory.

This is one of the best worm destroyers for unthrifty colts and horses that we have ever tried. Mix together one pound each of sugar and salt; in this mix one-half pound of fine smoking tobacco, six ounces of powdered sulphate of iron, As a dose for a mature horse give a heaping tablespoonful in a wheat-bran mash every morning for two weeks. Colts should be given in smaller proportion to size and age.

A veterinary supply house advises the following remedy for worms in horses: Give a teaspoonful of powdered copper sulphate every morning in feed for three or four days, then give two ounces of turpentine in a pint of raw linseed oil. Feed soft feed and keep the infected animal in the stable while under treatment.

A veterinary physician, signing no name, suggests this treatment in exchange: Clear the bowels by allowing the horse to fast over night, and give in the morning two ounces of turpentine in a pint of raw linseed oil or gruel, followed in the course of an hour with a bran mash; repeat this for two or three mornings. Santalol in half or one-ounce doses, made into powders, with linseed meal, may be given to valuable horses for two or three mornings in succession, followed by a cathartic.

ROOT-GRINDER IS EXCELLENT

Any Poultryman or Stock Raiser Can Make Practical Implement at Very Little Expense.

(By J. G. ALLHOUSE, in the Farm and Fireside.)

An easier and speedier method of reducing beets, carrots, turnips and other roots to pulp than chopping up with a spade or the four-bladed chopper sometimes used for this purpose is provided by the cheap home-made grinder illustrated. Any poultryman or stock-raiser can make it at trifling expense of time and work and use it with belt wheel, for steam or gas-engine power, or if desired or compulsory, a crank and fly-wheel may be attached and the grinder operated by hand-power. Manner of making hopper, attaching legs, braces, etc., is well explained in large illustration; small illustration shows sectionally the interior or main working parts. A triangular-shaped strip of wood (A) extends across rear side of box, firmly nailed in place behind the spiked cylinder (B), which revolves and does the grinding, and another wooden strip (C), fitted with teeth like the cylinder, extends across front side and slides in grooves or small strips at ends of hopper as an adjustable cone. Teeth may be 12-penny spikes heads cut off and the remainder driven into cylinder, leaving about a half inch projecting, with ends filed sharp. The distance cylinder teeth are placed apart and position of movable concave the teeth of which should intersect those of the cylinder, will determine the degree of fineness to which roots may be reduced. The grinder may be made of any desired capacity. If all its working parts are well made with screws and bolts, it will be very durable and may be run at high speed.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Lies will make the best hog poor. Hogs eat the food from which other animals will get no good.

Burap over the stable window helps to keep out the flies.

Stock should not be allowed to drink water or pond water.

A growing pig needs plenty of room but for fattening small quarters are best.

Horses should be carefully worked especially when the weather is hot and sultry.

The best time to cut the tails, as well as castrate, is when the lamb is a week old.

Extra feed increases the growth of a proper kind, and makes larger animals at maturity.

If a case of lump jaw develops in the herd this summer it should be attended to at once.

Skimp your sheep on good pasture and they will skimp you on mutton.

It often takes a number of generations to thoroughly change the disposition from timidity to quickness.

Middlings is a very good feed for swine, but it should not form the entire grain portion of their ration.

Sheep are comfort lovers, and the man who neglects to provide them with good, dry shelter makes a costly error.

Good sheep require good care to maintain their excellence. Poor sheep are always a burden upon the rest of the flock.

Some people claim that a hog is a scavenger by nature, but he certainly thrives better on clean feed and decent surroundings.

Indigestion is the cause of more than half the diseases of horses, and largely caused by improper feed and working horses on a full stomach.

If "Horsehead" was not located upon the soil of Bethel where I have placed it, it existed somewhere along the river Androscoggin, and to a real site is proven by record evidence let the public be contented with the application of the Indian name as record facts suggest. Compared with many this Indian name is musical. (To be continued.)

AFTER PASSING YEARS

Rumford Falls Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Rumford Falls story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Miss W. Hargreaves, Rumford Falls, Me., says: "About five years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in the small of my back that came on so suddenly while at work. I tried different remedies but was unable to get much relief and I began to get worse instead of better. I was so bad at times that I could not work at all and after I stopped, I could not sleep without medicine. I could hardly turn myself to bed my back felt so sore. I was losing my appetite and was getting weak. My spells also began to make their appearance, when someone suggested my trying Doan's Kidney Pills. I went to the drug store and got a supply. Six boxes of this wonderful remedy entirely cured me, and I am now well and strong, and in my work daily. I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all who suffer from kidney trouble."

CALLS ON WILSON TO RE-TRACT.

Do So or Prove His Charges, Says Roosevelt.

Col. Roosevelt called on Woodrow Wilson Oct. 7 either to prove or retract his statement made that day in Pueblo, Colo., that the United States Steel corporation is behind the third party program to regulation of the trusts.

"As far as I know," said Mr. Roosevelt, "the statement has not the slightest foundation in fact. Mr. Wilson has no business to make such a statement unless he has the proof, and if he has any proof I demand that he make it public immediately. If he has not, let him retract his statement as the only manly and honorable thing to do."

WILSON REPEATS IT.

"Is there a new draft?" asked Gov. Woodrow Wilson in his speech throughout Colorado today, when he charged that the United States Steel corporation and other combinations of capital were seeking to control the government by proposing that monopolies and trusts should be regulated by an industrial commission. "The old method was campaign contributions," said the Governor as he directed his attack on the interests which he said were backing the program of the Progressive party. The Governor drew attention to the Senate investigation by the "Clipp" committee and said the debate was centered on which of "corrupt privileged groups" had been more intimate with the candidates of the Republican and Progressive parties.

"I was saying in some of my newspaper commentaries a little while ago that if I were a capitalist I would draw a picture of the biggest monopolies of the United States, drawn up in a line, and in front Mr. Roosevelt trying to lead them in a ballgame."

ATTACKS WILSON'S RECORD.

Governor Johnson of California invaded Long Island on behalf of the National Progressive party Oct. 7 and proclaimed at his intention in the future address during the campaign to discuss Woodrow Wilson's attitude toward trade unionism. He asserted he would seek to show that the Democratic presidential candidate formerly was hostile to union labor.
